```
{theNumber:$theResult:$}
                                                           2: theResult [object Object]
                                         1: theNumber
                                                                                         0: [object Object]
                                                                                       {theNumber:$theResult:$}
<%=a0%>=theInterface.theNumber;
                                          theInterface.theResult=<%=a0%>;
                                                                                                                    <%=a0%> = active;
                                                                                                                                             <%=a0%> = identity;
                                                                                                            0: [object Object]
                                                                                                                   0: [object Object]
```

apply$to$andget$