```
            node_1248                                        node_1265
                0                                                0
theInterface.theResult=<%=a0%>;                          <%=a0%> = active;
                │                                                │
                │ edge_1280                                      │ edge_1285
                │                                                │
            node_1247                                        node_1284
                0                                                0
<%=a0%>=theInterface.theNumber;      // We dont care about <%=a0%>, this is a fake receiver node
```